BONANZA GOLD MINES COMPANY COMPLETED BIG SUMMER'S WORK

—X—

Big returns are in view for the Bonanza Gold Mines Company, headed by William R. Prince, 35 Cooper avenue, Yuba City, which has completed plans for doubling the handling of its daily tonnage, bringing it from 5,000 to 10,000 early in the spring, by obtaining an additional supply of water through a new flume.

Four acres of bedrock were uncovered during the past summer and it is said, that 50,000,000 yards of gravel are now available for sluicing. More than 17 miles of flume has been rebuilt, and a saw mill erected, which cut three million board feet of the lumber used in camp construction and rebuilding the flumes.

The Omega placer was not worked for many years because there was no suitable way to store the debris. Mr. Price, however, worked out a plan whereby debris is stored in basins downstream, formed when early day placer miners removed millions of yards of gravel. The Bonanza company also owns 301 acres of mining property at Park City, Utah. Charles Moore of Yuba City is president of the company.

NEW COMPANY FORMS OPEN UP OLD MINES AT MARKLEEVILLE

A group of New York and San Francisco men have organized the Alpine Consolidated Mines Company and purchased the Morning Star group of three claims, all stock of the Curtz Consolidated Mines Company at Markleeville, California.

When operation was first started many years ago on this property the Morning Star was opened to a depth of 120 feet and $500,000 worth of ore was taken out, consisting principally of copper, gold and silver. The new company is to work below the old workings, through a centrally located shaft. Production from the Alpine group, near the Morning Star has been to a depth of 150 feet and two crosscut tunnels have been driven over 150 feet to give an additional depth of 150 feet. Last July an option on these properties was given to A. H. Gracey and C. L. Wilson, 901 Hobart Building, San Francisco, and the latter is the president of the new company.

CARSON HILL PREPARES TO RESUME OPERATIONS

Stamp mill, a compressor and drilling equipment are now being installed at Carson Hill in the Melones district near Angel's camp, and work will resume in that district very soon, is the latest report from the Carson Hill Company Ltd., which owns 1000 acres there.

The mine, which was discovered more than 50 years ago, has produced $60,000,000 in gold, and with added equipment is thought to be capable of doubling that output.

VETERAN'S EXEMPTION LAW TO BE TESTED IN JUSTICES' COURT

For the purpose of testing out the Grass Valley city ordinance which requires pedlers of merchandise to pay a license tax of five dollars per month, four World War arrest in the court of Judge John Mulroy at Grass Valley on Tuesday.

Attorney O. E. Winburn, who is representing the war veterans, claims that the state law, which exempts former members of the army and navy from paying local license tax is paramount to the city ordinance which was adopted in 1893. Attorney Lynne Kelly, for the city of Grass Valley contends that the state law is not applicable and that the war veterans are subject to the local ordinance.

The men arrested were C. P. Updall, distributor for te Kraft products company, Norman J. Samuelhsen, distributor for te Best Foods products company, Leo P. Smith and E. L. Bacher, truck drivers.

The four cases will come up for preliminary hearing next Tuesday, at which time an attempt will be made to have the cases dismissed on demurrer. Failing in this, the cases will be set for trial on their merits.

Regardless of the outcome of the cases in the Justices' court it is probable that an appeal will be taken which will finally find its way to the supreme court of the state.

Veteran's organizations throughout the state will watch the progress of the cases with much interest, since the law on the subject of exemptions has been variously interpreted. Some municipalities voluntarily exempt war veterans from paying a license tax, while others are enforcing pre-war ordinances which contain no exemption clause.

It is predicted that every section of law having to do with exemption of war veterans and every precedent established by law will be presented to the court for its interpretation.

Should the court rule that the local ordinances have not been superceded by the state law, it is proposed that a model ordinance exempting war veterans be drawn up and submitted to the various municipalities of the state for adoption.

PREDICTS A GREAT FUTURE FOR NEVADA COUNTY MINES

We read with great pleasure an editorial of the new owners of The Nugget. Looks like there will be two more full fledged mining people in the community who will work and boost for the mining industry.

There is an old saying: "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach" and we would add, the way to prosperity lies through publicity through the local newspaper.

The citizens of our country have retained more of our old pioneer traits of friendliness and good fellowship than any other place in the entire state, so let's travel again "the trails of '49" in a modern way and with improved methods of mining make Nevada County not only the richest county in the state but the world.

We have the climate, soil, mines, mineral lands etc. Gold, which is the standard value of the financial foundation predominates in our mines though there are other rich minerals in the undeveloped mines in formerly practically unknown districts. All indications are that it is adjacent to and on the main contact, also in line with the larger producers, whose ore carry gold, silver and copper. One is a metalliferous mineral, that contains a metal which has found a recognized application in the arts and industries and occurs in such abundance in nature as to be of commercial importance.

The classification of ores is made on a metallurgical basis the mineral composition of the ore including the gangue. Whether an ore is designated as copper, lead, gold or silver ore is determined by the metal that predominates in value, but not necessarily in quantity. There are some ores which carry more than one metal and may be rich in all.

The ores from the Copper-Gold, Golden Glow and Golden Poppy mining claims which was recently discovered by T. J. Meyers of French Corral carries gold, silver and copper and is rich in all three. The copper is in every known form, native, sulphide, oxides, azurites, etc. The native assays at 9.5 to 70 per cent. It is similar in composition to the ores of the Copper Queen mine in Bisbee, Arizona. The gold ore assays $12.86 per ton and 96 cents in silver. The gold ore is similar in composition to the ore of gold mines in Cripple Creek, Colorado.

Why should not our government raise the standard value of gold. All other commodities have been just about doubled and trebled. Foods, clothing, lumber etc., have doubled and trebled. Wages have doubled—miners used to get $2.50 a day, but that $1.00 had the purchasing power of four or five dollars of today. The manufacturers of jewelery have to use minted gold because they cannot get pure unalloyed gold in sufficient quantity therefore this depletes our treasury surplus of gold coins.

There is a hardship worked upon the prospector and small miner H.e cannot sell gold to the U. S. mint in less than $100 quantities and some gold buyers take advantage of this and pay only $13.00 or $1.00 an ounce. They in turn, get $18.50 or more per ounce according to the purity and fineness of the metal. The little fellow cannot help himself.

The Father, this country greatly blessed,
Planted patriotism in each throbbing breast.
So, side by side now let us stand
To make Nevada the greatest county in the land.

WEEDS POINT HYDRAULIC MINE OPERATE AFTER IDLE 15 YEARS

CAMPTONVILLE, Oct. 14.—Considerable more activity has been noticed in the local mining field during the past month. Mining is coming back, in a slow, conservative plan, one that will make it pay, if there is any pay in it. The days of wild cat, salted mines has about passed and good properties are now being looked for to be made into a working basis that will be a paying investment.

George W. Lischer, of St. Louis, accompaning a group of associates, arrived two weeks ago from the east to start up their hydraulic property atWeeds Point, which has been idle for the past fifteen years. They are cleaning ditches, and endeavoring to get the property in shape to hydraulic the coming winter season. When they operated before they built a concrete restraining dam in Horse Valley Creek, but no gravel has ever reached it so that will now be used for storage.

Weeds Point is an old time gravel channel, with a considerable amount of virgin gravel which bears every indication of paying well. It is located three miles northwest of this community.

A company of San Jose, known as the Pleasant View Properties, Ltd., has taken over the Mt. Alta and the Pleasant View mines and has had a crew of men at work for the part two months driving the tunnel ahead and getting timbers out and other work preparatory to the winter's run.

Both of these properties are old gravel channels and some good awaits them. In fact, some good gravel has already been taken out, while clearing up the tunnels.

The tunnel is being continued at the Twin Quartz properties under the direction of William Hogarth and William Foote. Some very good rock rock has been taken from this place and indications for a good ledge are in evidence. This property is being operated byL. F. Lorenz of Los Angeles.

The Garden Valley dredger is being operated again after a shut-down of several weeks for repairs. A large shaft had been broken and it had to be taken to Benica to be recast. It is reported that they are now cutting through some very good gravel.

MURCHIE MINE KEEPING UP ON PRODUCTION

The American Foundation Company, which operates the Murchie Mine, near Nevada City, under the management of C. A. McCraney, has a flotation mill with a daily capacity of 175 tons, but averages handling 100 tons daily and is saving 94 percent of the values.

Concentrates are being shipped to the Selby smelter.

Ore from the Murchie mine carries three ounces of silver to one ounce of gold, which is a higher percentage of silver than that of other mines in this district

As many, who are familiar with the mines of this district, know, the property of which the Murchie mine is a part, consists of 352 acres of patented land together with mineral rights upon 80 adjacent acres situated in the Banner mining district.

The action of Cooley Buttler Lyman Gilmore involving title to the Gilmore Air Field at Grass Valley was continued over by Judge Tuttle to October 17th.

It appears that the attorneys for the contestants are attempting to effect a compromise. The basis of Lyman Gilmore retain the rights to the use of the surface of the land as an airport, and that cooley Butler be permitted to use the rest of the land for mining purposes.

Unless a compromise is entered into by the 17th, Judge Tuttle will be called upon to render a decision establishing the rights of the parties in the land under dispute.

Cooley Butler, the plaintiff, is represented by Nilon, Hennessy and Kelley. Lyman Gilmore is represented by attorney O. E. Winburn, of Grass Valley.

The following article appeared in the Nugget some time ago, but owing to a typographical error, we are reprinting it as a matter of principle so as to not mislead our outside readers. In the former appearance of the article "Gold Lead" was substituted for "Blue Lead Con. Mining Co." and Harry B. Gray was printed Harvey Gray. We are very glad to make the proper correction:

Judge W. L. Mobley, who is agent for the Bonanza Mining Company at Snow Tent Ridge, gave some interesting facts regarding a recent transaction between this company and the Gold Lead Mining Company, in which Mr. Mobley has given the Blue Lead Com., Mining Company a bond on this mining ground and they are now running a tunnel through the Blue Lead ground which will eventually tap the channel. They have already struck good findings in the gravel. Harry B. Gray is the local manager.

SHOOTS AT DEER KILLS RUBEN PENFREE, FRIEND

Employee of Empire-Star Mining Company Shot While Hunting Near Nevada City

Ruben J. Renfree was accidentally shot and killed Wednesday afternoon by his friend Albert Silva with whom he was hunting deer.

The two men were with a party which left here to round out the hunting season near the old Marsh saw mill and the dogs had made one run. Penfee changed his position and Silva thinking the stirring bushes housed a buck shot into them, and wounded his friend so severely that he died shortly after his arrival at the sanitarium where he was removed after receiving first aid from Dr. Werner who was rushed to the scene of the accident.

This is the only accident occurring here this season and is doubly sad because of the frantic grief of Mr. Renfree's unfortunate friend who fired the fatal shot and the deep sorrow brought to the wife and her large family of children who looked to him for support. He also is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bessie Renfree of Sacramento and a brother Jack Renfree and a sister, Mrs. Edith Williams also of that city. He was the son of the late Samuel Renfree who met an accidental death at the Champion mine many years ago. Mr. Renfree's immediate family consists of his widow, Mrs. Alma Renfree and the following step-children: Leonard, Carl, Norman, Dorothy and Elizabeth Foote of Nevada City; Eleanor Foote and Mrs. Alice Hocking of Grass Valley, and Mrs. Kenneth Glover of San Francisco.

He was a member of the Mine Workers Protective League of Grass Valle.

SPANISH MINE MAKING STEADY ADVANCEMENT

Three truck loads of heavy timbers from Auburn, passed through Nevada City the last of the week en route to the Spanish Mine on Poorman Creek, three miles east of Washington.

The strike of ore showing good values was made at this mine about August 3rd and since then good progress has been made.

The mine is operated by Fred W. Bradley, president of Bunker Hill & Sullivan and Alaska Treadwell. He made his first attempt at mining at the famous old property he is now opening. His son, F. W. Bradley, Jr., is in charge of operations at the mine.

The mine during the past five years has made steady headway in development and we were told that from three to four hundred thousand tons of high grade baryite has been partially blocked out.

In early summer the Pacific Gas & Electric completed a power line to the Spanish, from the Ireland mine in Sierra county.

WHAT AMENDMENT 21 REALLY MEANS TO NEVADA COUNTY

The Passage of Amendment No. 21 at the Coming Election Really Means a Reduction of "Your" Taxes 75 to 80c. On Each $100 Valuation

So many amendments to the State Constitution of California clutter up the ballot of the forthcoming election that the ordinary voter has become confused and has begun to wonder just "what it's all about, anyway, and in what way does it concern him personally." Having this in view, the Nugget scribe sailed forth in search of information and was not long in finding it.

Out of all the amendments now cluttering up the ballot there is one that is of vital interest to every man or woman who pays one dollar in taxes in Nevada County. This is Amendment No. 21—an amendment to equalize state taxes between the different counties of the state and to compel public utilities to pay their just share of taxes the same as the farmer, the miner, or the merchant. The present state law, passed some twenty years ago, provided a convenient loop-hole through which these wealthy corporations could crawl to safety, throwing the heavy burden of state tax on the common business and working man, and this has been going on for the past twenty years. Amendment No. 21 provides for a refund of this vast sum of money pilfered from the people, and Nevada County's share amounts to more than two and a half milions of dollars and an annual saving of almost $50,000 per year.

This is a plain, simple statement of the why and wherefore of Amendment No. 21 as it effects Nevada County; and it's Nevada County that we are interested in, and pay taxes in. The following information is being sent out by R. A. Eddy, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of this county and R. N. McCormick, Sec'y-Treas., of the Nevada County Development Association, and tells the story in plain, simple language that any voter can understand. It seems to us that no argument is necessary. If you want the railroads, power plant corporations and other public utility companies to wiggle out of paying their just share of state taxes, vote "NO", but if you want these corporations to pay their own taxes the same as you pay yours, then go to the polls and vote "YES" on Amendment No. 21.

Through the withdrawal of Corporation and Railroad property from local taxation under our present law, passed some twenty years ago, Nevada County lost an assessed valuation of $2,774,298 and our net loss under the present system of taxation is $49,950.52 in real money that has to be made up by taxing the farmer and business man.

Amendment 21 authorizes the state legislature of California to reimburse the counties of the state which have sustained a loss by reason of said withdrawal, and it is to the interest of every voter in Nevada County to vote in favor of this amendment.

No matter how small an amount is realized by each county affected, it will make a noticeable reduction in their tax rate, and if there is enough surplus in the State Treasury to pay in full it will mean that Nevada County will get back from the State of California, $49,950.52 per year, and reduce the existing tax rate 75 to 80 cents on the $100 valuation of taxable property.

The passage of this measure means real money in the pockets of tax payer in Nevada County.

The passage of Amendment No. 21 will not endanger the present set-up of our state tax law, which is sound in theory in some ways fall short in practice. Stop and think for a few moments just why the great utility corporations of the state maintain a well organized and efficient publicity bureau and are spending thousands of dollars to defeat Amendment No. 21 and keep it from becoming a law. Mr. Voter, do you suppose for one second that they are doing this out of brotherly love for the common herd? Did you ever know of a corporation spending money lavishly for any other purpose than to make or save more money? We've lived a long time and have had many years of close connection with big utility corporations and can say truthrully and fearlessly that we never have. The sole reason the railroads and other corporatons are fighting this amendment is because they will have to pay, and that is reason enough. There may be a time when others may see the state needs a new system of taxation but such is not the intention of Amendment 21 at this time. They say that figures do not lie. Well, look at the figures we have given you here and then go to the polls and vote "NO" for the big corporations or "YES" for yourself and family. We leave it to you.

DRIVE CAREFULLY AND WATCH FOR TINY TOTS

The streets and roads these days are lined with children on their way to and from school.

After a period of nearly three months vacation when the youngsters have been conspicuous by their absence from these highways of travel, motoristss have gotten into the nabit of not slowing down in passing school houses, and curves and narrow bridges could be taken at a swift rate of speed because children were all safely cared for at home.

Now, however, hundreds of first termers are being sent forth to the different marts of learning and these tiny tots can not be trusted to know just what to do in case of need for extra caution, and its up to the drivers to remember that one of them or a group might be just around the corner, or srossing a narrow bridge where merely stepping off the side walk, or stumbling and falling off, might mean instant death or the horror of becoming a cripple for life.

Verily, it behoves all of us who drive cars to be CAREFUL.

SAVING TEN CENTS NETS A MAN EIGHTY DOLLARS

GALT (Ont.)—Instead of investing a dime in a cheap hammer, Thomas Hubbard used an old piece of gas pipe. As a result of his thrift Hubbard was richer by $80.

Happening to look inside the pipe a few days ago he noticed that there was something in the pipe. He took a stick and pushed it out and found that the pipe had contained a wad of bills consisting of eight ten dollar bills of the issue of 1907. The bills were still in good condition and Hubbard shook hands with himself and called it a day.

SUCCESS IN BUSINESS AND THE COMMUNITY SPIRIT

CHICAGO, Ill., (Special) October 3.—"The quick return of national prosperity is in the hands of the retail merchants of the country," declared J. C. Penney, founder and chairman of the board of the J. C. Penney Company, before the members of the National Chain Store Association here today, at their national convention.

He also stated that the successful retail merchant of the future would be a leader in community affairs, serving as a community minded citizen. In his talk, Mr. Penney said:

"The country is familiar with the nature of the attacks which have been made against the citizenship of the chain store units and chain store managers. In general it is familiar with the type of men who incite these attacks. The country at large is becoming increasingly convinced that the majority of these attacks have back of them the desire of some individual to capitalize on passions and prejudice to his own personal financial advantage.

"If any good, whatever has arisen from the various local situations, it will be found in the awakening of a rising interest in the communities where agitation has been going on in chain stores in general, and in the awakening on the part of the chain stores, to the fact that they must assert the part they are playing in community affairs.

"In our organization we have kept close track of the activities of our store managers in local affairs.

"Results of a recent investigation show that one of 1396 managers, who received questionaires, 1307 were active members of local organizations, maintain 2 0 0 memberships; 572 store associates were also members of local business and civic clubs; 933 managers were on committees or held office in the clubs to which they belong.

"It is characteristic of the American people that they are keenly sensative to local activities. We are a race of joiners and we are community minded.

"Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Community Chest, Chamber of Commerce, these are all far more than words in the minds of the American people. They stand for national traits which cannot be discounted.

"The duties of chain stores as citizens of the communities in which they operate are rather clearly defined. Past experience in our own business has definitely proved to me that no business can reach to its highest development in any locality unless it is community minded.

"The average American family, and by this I mean the wage earning family, which is the backbone of retail success, is not sufficiently well organized from the viewpoint of bugeted expenses to measure a saving of from one to twenty per cent of its daily outlay against a friendly feeling toward the merchants with whom the wife or husband may be doing business.

"This family wants to enjoy a friendly and interested relationship with the storekeepers who after all, are taking about sixty per cent of the total family income every year.

"'I hove found tnat wnere our store managers are combining the joining spirit with good sound business sense they were steadily increasing their volume of sales and at the same time were maintaining friendly relationship with other local merchants.

"The duties of citizenship do not impose any financial or social hardships upon the store managers, nor upon the store personnel.

"Because a man conducts his business in a manner to increase its financial success does not make him a business outcast in his community. Every community is fully aware of the fact that one of the most dangerous men in its midst is the man who is not equipped to run a business, and who still insists upon trying. The losses sustained by retail organizations which fail are spread over the entire community.

"On the other hand, the man who insists that he must run his business purely as a mechanical, money-making machine entirely without regard for the fact that he is accepted as a part of the community ,is, and probably justifiably so, likely to be looked upon with suspicion by the community."

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE ABANDONED THIS YEAR

The Salvation Army announces that owing to prevailing conditions it has been decided not to put on the usual type of public drive in this city this year, but that instead, Envoy and Mrs. W. King, who are connected with the Northern California Divisional Headquarters, will make a thorough canvass of Nevada City, Grass Valley and the surrounding districts in the hope of securing, by this method, sufficient funds to enable the local officers, Captain A. Hedquist and Lieutenant V. Roberts to carry on the good work throughout another year.

It is well that our citizens be reminded that this worthy organization in addition to work done in the local community, render splendid service through its Hospital and Home for unfortunate girls and women in Oakland its home and farm for boys and girls at Lytton Springs and its wonderful training college in San Francisco, where young men and women from this locality, as well as from others, have gone and received practical training to fit them for workin the field. In this connection our community has, in times past, benefitted. The Army requirements are indeed modest and the record of past accomplishments merits the hearty support of all who have the means to do so.

VERNON STOLL ON BALLOT FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Vernon Stoll presents his card in this issue as candidate for the office of District Attorney of Nevada county having qualified in the August primaries and being high man of the three in the field.

Mr. Stoll, in announcing his candidacy to the Nevada City Nugget stated that he positively disclaimed any connection whatsoever with any propaganda or publicity derogatory to the character or social standing or deleterious to the candidacy of his opponent, nor had he made any radical statements intended as "vote getters."

"My intentions," Mr. Stoll added, "are to make a clean and friendly campaign, present my qualifications to the voters and let them decide for or against me.

From my first residence here I have been deeply interested in the progress of Nevada County in all of its phases and have the greatest faith in its future expansion and prosperity. It is now and will ever be my purpose to maintain a sympathetic, unprejudiced understanding of all interests affecting the county and to keep free of associations which might bias my judgment should I be elected to the office to which I aspire.

Should I be elected, I will at all times administer the duties of the office with a conscientious regard for the law and the rights of all concerned, keeping constantly in view the practical interests of Nevada county and it is my intention to represent all portions of the county with unqualified fairness."

Mr. Stoll is a native of Tehama county, California and is familiar with conditions similar to these existing in Nevada county. He is a graduate of the Univesity of California and the Bolt College of Law—a department of the University. He was duly admitted to the bar and feels himself qualified both tehnically and by experience, to administer the office of District Attorney.

The candidate stated that he again solicited the votes of all who favored him at the primary election and earnestly invites those who voted for other candidates to consider his claims to preferment at the general election.

FIVE HUNDRED P. S. E. A. MEMBERS AND GUESTS AT BUCK STEW

Last Saturday evening the annual buck stew of the P. S. E. A. Drum Division was held in the banquet room of the Elks Hall in Grass Valley.

Covers laid for 400 guests proved inadequate to accommodate he crowd which was greatly in excess of that number,, and several tables were occupied after the first relay was served.

Herbert Cooper, manager of the Drum Division of the P. G. & E. made a short address to the members of the association and guests, after which he introduced J. Campbell, president of the Association for the Drum Division who also spoke briefly and interestingly.

Just before serving the stew, Mr. Cooper made the statement that a light globe whih had been in service since 1908, a period of 22 years, would add its brilliancy to the already well lighted banquet hall. When fitted to the socket it was found to be still intact and though the light was yellow instead of the clear brilliance now achieved, it was at least a living testimony of the stability of the incandescent light.

Immediately following this little ceremony, Mr. Beckman, the chef, who it seems is the recognized high mogul, when it comes to preparing a stew fit for kings, was introduced, and his enthusiastic welcome was indicative of the high esteem in which he is held as chief mixer of that most delectable and savory dish. In less than ten minutes after the kitchen doors were thown open the volunteer waiters, numbering a dozen or more, had served every one with generous portions, and the feast began. Buck stew and more buck stew with plenty of steaming coffee, rolls and butter, followed by numberless home-made cakes and boxed ice cream rounded ont a repast which was certainly enjoyed by all present.

After dinner an entertainment by a group of professionals from San Frisco was put on in the ballroom and as each member of the company was an artist in his line a most pleasant hour resulted. At the close of this feature, the floor was cleared and dancing engaged the attention of the younger set for several hours. The card rooms also were well patronized. Taken as a whole, the evening was one of the most pleasant of the opening season. Mr. D. C. Stewart, local agent of the P. G. & E., company was highly complimented for his ability in enlisting a spirit of cooperation which insured the success of the undertaking.

CLUB WOMEN PLAN NEW CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

At a meeting of the Women's Civic Improvement Club, held at the Brand Studio last Monday evening, plans were made to carry out projects which if accomplished will be of geat and lasting benefit to the citizens of Nevada City.

Mrs. R. J. Bennetts, president of the club was in charge of the meeting.

Modern installation of lights in the city libary is now the keynote of the club's work, and judging from the good wok done last year in installing lockers at the high school which benefitted the girls of the school and finishing just ecently an additional thirty-five lockers for the boys, it stands to reason that lighting the library properly will soon be an accaccomplished fact. The maintainance of the lights being the only problem as the money for the lights is already in the treasury.

The library is supported by the city which levies a tax of 20 cents a hundred on the taxable valuation of the city. This just meets the current expenses of the library and the trustees have to eqercise strict economy to keep within their budget.

Various plans for providing these additional funds have been discussed and the ladies of the club hope to arrive at a solution of the problem within the next few months. They realize, as do the library trustees, that the new lights are not a luxury but a necessity, as they would make for conditions that would be appreciated by the patrons of the library who read books in the reading rooms and the children who come there to study.

The club is also planning some new improvements to the building and hope to be able to purchase some new books in the near future.

At the next meeting of the club on October 27, Mrs. James D. Stewart, an attorney from Auburn, will be present and explain the various amendments which are to be voted upon in November.

The general public is invited to be present at this meeting.

WOMAN INMATES OF THE COUNTY HOSPITAL FETED

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. church, gave to the women of the County Hospital an afternoon of pleasure last Friday which will be long remembered by the even dozen who attended.

The affair was held in the ground floor Sunday school class room of the church, which held pleasant warmth and cheer for the frail and feeble old ladies.

The table presented an attractive appearance with its centerpiece of fruits and vegetables; its white cloth and gay nut cups and favors.

Preceding the hour of dining a program consisting of songs, witty stories and reading was put on by the the committee and visiting ladies.

Mrs. Whitworth gave a reading entitled "The Little Red Hen." Mrs. Perry followed with "The Green Watermelon." Mrs. Stine furnished a couple of whistling numbers which were highly entertaining. Sacred songs in which all present participated were enjoyed.

The committee in cnarge consisted of Mrs. Buckland, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Blakely who were cheerfully assisted by a number of other ladies of of the church.

NEVADA CITY-GRASS VALLEY TO BEGIN SKI-COURSE WORK

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce held a regular meeting Tuesday evening, during which winter sports for this section was discussed, and plans laid to investigate near-by possibilities for a site for winter sports, especially skiing.

Several members of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce were present and evinced much interest.

The recently organized skiing association of Auburn was represented by its president, Wendle Robie who gave an excellent talk on the organization and pointed out as that concrete reasons for mountain towns to sponsor winter sports, the fact that bringing in an influx of sportsmen means an increased business for local merchants in the way of selling equipment, including articles of heavy clothing, etc. This might also be enlarged upon in adding that hotels, restaurants and rooming houses would also have added patronage as people from the cities usually plan to spend a week-end.

A delegation from Nevada City and Grass Valley was piloted to the proposed site of the Nevada City-Grass Valley ski-course, nine miles from this city on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway, Wednesday by Otto Lursh, an employee of the P. G. & E. Co., at Drum Power house. An expert ski jumper born in Norway, home of ski jumping athletes, Mr. Lush will probably be a wide-awake factor in bringing into existence the proposed ski-course After a thorough investigation of the proposed course it was decided to make further and more exhaustive surveys, which will be done immediately.

Business men of both cities are of one mind in regard to the ski club and are already making plans to affiliate with the National Association of ski clubs. The called meeting which will be held here Saturday night will doubtless cement tentative plans now existent.

DON'T MAKE ME OUT A DARN LIAR

(By Eddie Cantor.)

What is this I hear—Daylight Saving in California? It must not be! It dare not be! Why, it would make me out an awful liar. When I returned to Broadway for a visit, a couple of weeks ago, I stopped traffic because I was all tanned up—brown as a nut, you know. "What have you been doing to yourself, Eddie asked my pale-faced friends, "you look better than you've ever looked in your life. How did you do it?"

"It's this way fellows", said I in my own inimitable manner, "I did not do it at all. It's that good old California sunshine, straight from the sky—16 hours a day, 365 days a year.

"Why," I said, "you New Yorkers don't know what it is to be out in God's country where even ghosts are tanned. All you easterners have is smoke and rain and cloudy weather —365 days a year."

Remember I said I stopped traffic, just because I looked brown and healthy and blamed it on California. Now imagine the "razzberry" the Broadway gang would hand me if I said we were goin to have Daylight Saving in perfect California. Say, they'd thing we needed it and didn't have any sunlight at all.

Wait a minute! Here's another argument. My wife has a pretty tough time putting our kids to bed at 7:30, Now, an you see her trying to put those little rascals in the hay an hour earlier? Can you? Why, the governor of the state would have to bring the militia to protet the lady that bears my name.

My kids are normal, healthy youngsters and they hate to go to bed anyway—just like yours. Now I have five of 'em (1930 census), Imagine what they'd do to me—'er Mrs. Cantor—when she tries to bed them down in daylight—what their Ma would say about Daylight Saving is plenty strong. I know. I heard her!

Maybe I've been talking too much about myself. Let's shift to the poor farmers, who get all the bricks any way. Isn't it tough enough on these men without making 'em get up an hour earlier, and can't you hear this dialog between the cows?:

First cow: "Gwendolin, dear, this boss of ours has certainly become ambitious lately, waking us up in the middle of the night to do his milking. Where does he get that stuff?"

Second bovine: It's that darn Daylight Saving what does it. (This cow is slightly ungrammatrical.) "If he don't let me sleep that extra hour I'll dry up, just see if I don't."

First cow: "Here he comes. See that grouchy look in his eyes?"

Second bovine: "Dear me! His eyes are half shut. He isn't even awake. Why don't the poor fool go back to bed?"

Kidding aside, folks, this Daylight Saving talk is the bunk. By what right does a bunch of selfish men try to force millions of human beings to change their life habits just so it can suit its own convenience, what we need in this country, believe me, is to enforce the laws we already have without making silly new ones.

NEW FLAG PRESENTED TO WASHINGTON SCHOOL

FLAG RAISING IS FITTINGLY OBSERVED ON COLUMBUS DAY

Monday, October 13th was observed as Columbus Day and as a fitiug and partriotic ceremony the Nevada City schools united in being present at the Washington school where the beautiful American flag, gift to the school boad from Hydraulic Parlor No. 56, N. S. G. W., was flung to the breeze from its new flag pole while the assembled schools, teachers and guests present, sang America.

Irving D. Gibson, grand trustee of the Native Sons of the Golden West, was to ave been present to deliver the address, but when word was reeived late in the morning that he would not be able to be present, Judge Raglan Tuttle consented to speak in his place.

Judge Tuttle made a fine, splendidly connected addess, tracing history down from the time of the discovery of America by Columbus to the present day, not forgetting Betty Ross, who made the first American flag when the thirteen original colonies were founded in 1777 and told of the carying of the flag by Washington's troops at Valley Forge and traced it down through the years and bloody wars until it was used in the World War.

"Patriotism," the Judge said, "is not wholly manifested by the bearing of arms in time of war, but was daily demonstrated in times of peace by obeying the constitution of the United States and the laws made thereunder."

Muller Chapman, president of Hydraulic Parlor, then presented the flag to the board of education, which J. F. Colley, as president, gratefully accepted in a short speech and the audience gathered about the flag pole in the front part of the school yard where two Boy Scouts raised the flag to the top of the pole as Mrs. Gove C. Celio sang beautifully "The Star Spangled Banner."

The pledge to the flag by the pupils ended the day's progam.

HERE IS TOWN OF OUZZE TO STATE GOVERNMENT

Shelal, La., is a veritable puzzle town to the government officials. It is situated in three counties and on the intersection of four townships, a geographical condition which has led to many difficulties and has puzzled experts of the whole state.

Some of the difficulties and problems encountered are:

There is a modern consolidated school in the village but it is in Polk county and children of Story and Boone counties must go out of town to go to school or pay tuition.

Several of the citizens live in Polk county, go to church in Boone county, and get their mail in Story county.

Because of the intersection of townships every citizen of the town must leave town to vote.

Taxpayers must go to three different county seats in order to pay their taxes.

The census bureau found it necessary to enumerate the figures of all three counties to ascertain the fact that there were just 150 persons living in this puzzle town.
